Houston Woman pleads guilty to Cares Act fraud, theft of government funds

October 11, 2023

NEW ORLEANS — The spouse of a former Amtrak employee pleaded guilty September 12, 2023, to a two-count bill of information charging her with making false statements and theft of government funds related to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act.

According to a press release from the U.S. Attorney's Office, Eastern District of Louisiana, Temika Santemore made false statements to the Small Business Administration to fraudulently obtain pandemic-related relief loans funded by the federal government, including Paycheck Protection Program loans. As a result, she received approximately $13,540 in pandemic-related relief loans. Santemore also applied for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan from the SBA in July 2021 and illegally received $5,000 for a dormant business she owned.

Sentencing is set for December 12, 2023. Santemore potentially faces a maximum sentence of up to five years in prison, up to $250,000 in fines, and up to three years of supervised release for the false statements count. She faces a maximum of up to ten years in prison, up to $250,000 in fines, and up to three years of supervised release for the theft count. There is also a $100 mandatory special assessment fee for each count due after conviction.

Her husband, Stacey V. Santemore, a former Amtrak train attendant, was sentenced for similar charges July 25, 2022, to three years' probation, 12 months' home confinement, and was ordered to pay restitution of $64,874.64 to the SBA and $22,725 to the Louisiana Workforce Commission.

In addition to the Amtrak Office of Inspector General, the case was investigated by the Department of Labor OIG and the FBI.
